

QUATRO

Red Blend / 2019

Sustainable wines from Chile

VINEYARD

Variety: 45% Cabernet Sauvignon, 25% Syrah, 20% Carmenere & 10% Malbec

D.O: Colchagua Valley

Climate: Mediterranean, with the four seasons of the year clearly defined and significant temperature differences between daytime and night-time.

Soil: Deep fluvial soils of volcanic origin with clay.

Harvest: Each grape variety was handpicked separately starting with the Syrah during the last weeks of March, followed by the Malbec, then in early April the Cabernet Sauvignon, ending finally with the Carmenere.

WINEMAKING

Winemaker: Santiago Margozzini

Fermentation: The clusters were destemmed for fermenting separately by variety with selected yeasts at a maximum controlled temperature of 28 – 30 °C in stainless steel tanks.

Ageing: 80% of the final wine was barrel aged during 5 months.

Technical Data:

TASTING NOTES

Colour: Attractive and deep ruby red colour.

Aromas: Intense ripe red fruits aromas, highlighting blackcurrants with an elegant touch of spices in the background.

Palate: With a juicy and round mouth and with a very good texture and a long ending with fruity notes that come back again in the aftertaste.

SERVING SUGGESTION

It is a very gastronomic wine, that can food pair with red grilled meats, white meats and/or pastas.
